Excerpt from Mr. Bradlaugh Proved Utterly Unfit to Represent Any English Constituency: An Appeal to the Men of England It is gratifying to know to how large an extent the Appeal to the Men of England has checkmated Mr. Bradlaugh. I rejoice in this because the contest is one in which issues of very grave character are involved. This question is not one of party politics, much less is it a question of the infringement of the rights of a constituency. No one knows better than Mr. Bradlaugh does that the opposition which exists against him arises from his own lawless conduct. For many years, on hundreds of platforms in England, he has uttered the most revolting, atheistic, and social blasphemies. Through the medium of the press he has circulated these shocking statements by hundreds of thousands. This has been done to further his atheistic principles when, under the self-assumed title of Iconoclast, he went through the Country using the vile language, samples of which are furnished in This Appeal. Beyond this, he has circulated books which...
