Penguin Books Ltd. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, No Name Lane, Howard Linskey, The hunt for a serial killer unearths an unsolved cold case from over sixty years ago. Young girls are being abducted and murdered in the North-East. Out of favour Detective Constable Ian Bradshaw struggles to find any leads - and fears that the only thing this investigation will unravel is himself. Journalist Tom Carney is suspended by his London tabloid and returns to his home village in County Durham. Helen Norton is the reporter who replaced Tom on the local newspaper. Together, they are drawn into a case that will change their lives forever. When a body is found, it's not the latest victim but a decades-old corpse. Secrets buried for years are waiting to be found, while in the present-day an unstoppable killer continues to evade justice. Praise for No Name Lane: "Howard Linskey is one of the best new writers around and this is the start of a must-read series." (Mark Billingham). "This is lacerating fare that makes most current crime fiction look like thin gruel." (Financial Times). "Linskey has elevated this story to a level of complexity and humanity seldom approached by British writers previously. A new name on our criminal horizon." (Maxim Jakubowski). "Gripping and convincing." (Kimberley Chambers). "Brilliant. This is first class stuff, an unstoppable tale, a real page-turner not to be missed." (Sarah Broadhurst). "Serial killer thrillers don't come much better than this. Old secrets and terrible new crimes woven into an immensely satisfying, utterly compelling narrative which keeps you constantly guessing. Fans of Linskey's critically acclaimed David Blake series will already know what an outstanding author he is, everyone else, prepare to add another name to your must-read list." (Eva Dolan). "Linskey weaves together a compelling and twisty tale that gripped me from...
