Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The American Journal of Science, Vol. 50 Although the matter has been under consideration and discussion for a number of years, the genetic relationship between the earlier members of the uranium family of radio-elements is still a matter of considerable uncertainty. It is generally conceded that both ionium and actinium are products of the radioactive disintegration of uranium, but the exact point of origin of actinium and its immediate parentage have remained somewhat obscure and uncertain. The work of Boltwood on the relative ray activity of uranium minerals and the uranium which they contained demonstrated a constancy of relationship between the radioactive constituents of the older minerals and clearly indicated a close genetic relation between uranium and actinium.
