Such material needs much revision to adapt it to general utility, but is obviously the best foundation for a collection like the present. For this we have had ample resources, both in the accumulations of a considerable practice, and in the course of reporting cases of practice for a number of years, and also in the kindness of members of the profession in this city and elsewhere. In addition to these, such of the standard Reports as seemed most valuable for this purpose have been examined, to enrich these pages with what has the express sanction of judicial opinion. Many such forms in the Reports, which would too rarely be of use to afford them space here, are referred to in notes, in connection with kindred forms in the text.
