

Islamic Law and Contemporary Issues

By Ahmed Zaki Yamani

University Press of the Pacific. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 48 pages. Dimensions: 10.7in. x 8.0in. x 0.2in. The Islamic Sharia as a phrase has two scope of meanings. Generally and widely construed it denotes everything that has been written by Moslem jurists throughout the centuries, whether it dealt with contemporaneous issues of the time or in anticipation of future ones. The jurist derived their principles from the Quran and the Sunna (way of action and the opinions of the Prophet), and from the other sources of Sharia such as Ijma, (the consensus of the community represented by its scholars and learned men), and public interest considerations. The Sharia looked upon in this wide scope constitute a huge Juristic tradition the value of which depends on the individual jurist himself, his era, or even the particular problem confronting him. As such the system has a tremendous scholastic value to the Moslem, however, it has no binding authority; since within it one might find different, and sometimes contradictory principles resolving the same issues, depending on the Juristic school that propagated the principle. Furthermore, it cannot have a binding authority since circumstances that brought about a certain principle might not be in existence...
